Erase the neglect of war years

Perhaps your house is among those which show the unavoidable neglect of war years. If so, you can erase some of the signs of that neglect by repairing or modernizing now with the aid of an FHA-Timoplax loan arranged at Bank of America. The new emergency housing regulations allow non-veterans a $400 expenditure for modernization, with no limit on decorating, painting, or papering. When you arrange a loan to buy or modernize at this bank, you receive prompt, friendly, experienced service... a service which has benefited many thousands of California home owners. If your home now needs repairs, a Bank of America loan will prove the convenient, practical way to finance them.

Expansion Of Humanitarian Services Asked

In a world of famine, pestilence and unrest Seventh-Day Adventists will continue to enlarge their humanitarian service to meet the physical and spiritual needs of the world. This fact was very evident at the ten-day meeting which closed Sunday at Lynwood, where 3,000 members were camped for their annual camp meeting. Speakers and leaders from the denomination's headquarters in Washington, D. C., told of plans for the relief of Europe's starving. The church humanitarian program which costs approximately 12 million dollars annually will be stepped up, leaders said. This small denomination of only half a million members now operates in more than 400 countries and islands of the world and speaks the message of Christ in 800 languages and dialects, speakers pointed out.

Elder W. H. Branson of Washington, D. C., the newly-elected president of the China Division of the church, spoke almost daily at the encampment, urging members to have a world-wide vision in their church activities. On the last Sabbath (Saturday) of the meeting, more than $50,000 was subscribed to mission work, it was announced. The camp meeting is held annually on the 36-acre grounds of the Lynwood Academy under the sponsorship of the Southern California Conference of 60 churches. Elder David Voth is president for the 13,000 Adventists in the local conference.

STRIP BALL GAME

The playground in the Shoe-string Strip was the scene of a hotly-contested ball game between a group of players representing 214th and 215th st. vs. 216th and 218th st. The score at the end of three hours play was 15 to 14 with the 214th and 215th st. group the winner.

County Would Buy Douglas Structure

Notice of intention to purchase the office building of the Douglas Aircraft Co. plant at Lakewood blvd. and Carson st. for future use as a branch of Los Angeles County office and courts building, was filed with the federal government in Washington by county manager W. A. ... returned from the capital last week, it has been revealed. Upon his return to his county duties, the county manager said: "I discussed the matter of the purchase of the office building of the Douglas Long Beach plant facing on Lakewood blvd. In behalf of the county I filed a notice of intention to purchase, which may, of course, be withdrawn.

Industrial Parley Slated For Fall At Palm Springs

Information concerning the forthcoming Industrial Relations conference sponsored jointly by the Merchants and Manufacturers Association and the Personnel and Industrial Relations Association has been sent out to Southern California business leaders, it was announced by Charles A. McKeand, M & M executive vice president. Palm Springs was selected as the site for the fourth annual meeting to be held October 14-17. The affair will bring together 150 local industrialists under the guidance of 10 conference leaders. Discussions will center around various phases of industrial relations such as wage and salary administration, incentives, stabilized wages and employee morale.

Western Air Has New Service To Eastern Points

Five thousand more passengers per month will be carried by Western Air Lines between Denver and Los Angeles under new expanded service announced recently. Daily flights by 44-passenger Skymasters will be increased from six to ten by August 29, enabling the airline to carry a total of 13,200 passengers between the two cities each month. Six of the daily flights will be non-stop, and four, having a capacity of 5,280 air passengers per month, will continue to make landings at Grand Junction, Colorado, and Las Vegas, Nevada. In addition to expanding passenger service, the addition of the 120 new flights per month will speed up air mail deliveries between the Rocky Mountain area and the Pacific Coast, and will increase Western Air's daily air freight and express capacities by many thousands of pounds.

HIGH PRICES.

Comparatively high prices will prevail for five or six years, says a University of California expert in business administration. "This building may be purchased by the county on a priority basis, at fair cost based on reproduction in normal times. If a health center should be established, or a branch of the county library, small discounts will apply. Terms are 10 percent down, 10 years to pay the balance, balance to carry interest at 4 percent. The county would be given the privilege of subleasing, in view of the fact the building contains 118,000 usable square feet of floor space in excess of our requirements in this area. I will have an estimate of the cost of this building in a few days." Part of the Long Beach Douglas plant, situated north of the municipal airport, now is in use in the assembly of automobiles. The plant was built as part of the wartime program of airplane production, but no longer is being used for that purpose.

Veterans Make Fine Scholars, Survey Shows

Veteran students have established a group record for scholastic accomplishment, that has no parallel in the history of our schools, according to a survey just completed in 19 colleges and universities in California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii by the Veterans Administration. The survey, which covered the colleges and universities within the area of the Los Angeles VA regional office, reported former servicemen not only made better grades than the average non-veteran but demonstrated a seriousness of purpose and maturity which brought enthusiastic comments from every school in the poll. Disabled veterans at U.C.L.A. distanced all other students in academic performance in a situation that is clearly becoming commonplace," said Byron H. Atkinson of the University's Office of Veteran Affairs. They attained an overall average of nearly B, while 23 percent made B averages or better. Their work "suggests a revision of the thinking of many regarding the imagined 'veteran problem,'" Atkinson said. Handicapped veterans have a great determination in spite of their disabilities, schools reported in explaining reasons for their better scholastic showing. The University of California at Santa Barbara concluded in its report that service with the armed forces "cured the nation's youth of much of their lack of purpose which was so evident in the high school graduate before 1941."

Many Contribute Toward Fund To Aid The Blind

Mrs. Elsie Smith wishes to express her sincere appreciation to the Torrance people who have again given so generously toward the fund for the blind and handicapped. The Torrance annual "Brotherhood Day" was a splendid success, she states. Mrs. Smith, also wishes to thank Charleston's Dress Shop for use of the store room at 1316 Sartori, used as headquarters for the drive on Friday and Saturday. Cash prizes were received by the following boys and girls for their tireless efforts in canvassing the city for contributions for the fund: Donna Wolf, Edward Powell, Judy Wolf, Edward Pagac, Bob Poer, and Richard Knappenberg.
